ACADEMIC PROFILE

Researcher and University Lecturer in Private International Law, specialising in European Union law and comparative succession systems. My work focuses on doctrinal and practical approaches to legislative and case-law developments across Spain, Italy, Germany, France, and the United Kingdom.

My current research explores the circulation of succession mechanisms in cross-border contexts within the European Union, with particular attention to conflict-of-laws issues and Regulation (EU) No 650/2012, with a view to proposing a refined model for European succession law.
